

Greystone announces new equity department structure and leader

Greystone has introduced a new organizational structure to their equities department. Their existing geographically-defined equity teams have now been merged into a single equity organization reporting to Jeff Tiefenbach.

Effective Nov. 1, 2016, Tiefenbach assumed the new role as Chief Investment Officer, Public Equities. He is responsible for the portfolio management of Greystone's entire equity franchise, including Canadian equity, U.S. equity, international equity and global equity funds.

In addition, Himanshu Sharma has been appointed the lead portfolio manager for Canadian equities and co-lead portfolio manager of the Canadian Equity Fund (Greystone) (S203) along with existing co-lead portfolio manager James Baldwin.

Greystone remains true to their growth-orientated investment strategy and there are no fundamental changes to their investment process. The funds' investment style and objective remain unchanged and no action is required.
