

IMR Update: Leadership Update at Mawer

On February 23, 2026, Mawer Investment Management Ltd. (Mawer) announced that CEO Bruce Geddes is taking a leave of absence due to personal circumstances and have appointed Eric Wetlaufer as interim CEO.

Mr. Wetlaufer is a seasoned investment executive with more than 40 years of experience in global public markets. He has held senior leadership roles at several leading investment organizations and currently serves on several boards. He has served as an advisory director on Mawer's Board of Directors since June 2025. He will step away from this role while serving as interim CEO and is expected to return once the interim appointment concludes.

March 5, 2026